DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species:

Embodiment 1: Figs. 1, 15, 26, and 39.

Embodiment 2: Figs. 16, 17, 19, 21, 22, and 25.

Embodiment 3: Figs. 40, 41, and 42.

The species are independent or distinct because:

Embodiment 1 discloses the noise reduction apparatus further comprising a noise detector placed outside the predetermined space for detecting the noise, wherein the control section generates the control signal based on results detected by the sound detector and the noise detector, wherein the wall has a hole, the control sound source includes: a board connected to the wall so as to block the hole; a vibrating component placed so as to face the predetermined space for forming an air layer with the board, and which is vibrated by a sound radiated into the air layer; and a driver for radiating the sound into the air layer, and the control section causes the driver to radiate the sound by the control signal, wherein the sound detector, which is placed in the predetermined space, detects the sound by detecting a sound pressure and a phase of the sound propagated toward the predetermined space.

Embodiment 2 discloses the noise reduction apparatus further comprising a housing, which is attached to the surface of the wall so as to face the noise source, for generating space for noise reduction between the housing and the wall; wherein the control sound source is placed on the housing attached to the surface of the wall; the sound detector is placed in the space for noise reduction; and the control sound source radiates a sound into the space for noise reduction.

Embodiment 3 discloses the noise reduction apparatus further comprising wherein the wall has a hole, the control sound source includes: a board connected to the wall so as to block the hole; a vibrating component placed so as to face the predetermined space for forming an air layer with the board, and which is vibrated by a sound radiated into the air layer; and a driver for radiating the sound into the air layer, and the control section causes the driver to radiate the sound by the control signal, wherein the sound detector detects the sound propagated toward the predetermined space by detecting a vibration of the vibrating component.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, Claim 1 generic.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of an allowable generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species.

MPEP § 809.02(a).

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.
